

Drs. Joe and Stella Evangelista

Parents of the Year (Tahanan Award for Outstanding Parents)

The Pride and Joy of Parenthood

Train a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not turn from it. Proverbs 22:6

Parenting is a commitment most adults make at some point in their lives. Ordinarily, they do so after marriage and, in partnership with their spouses but times have changed and so did the concept of parenting. Today, many single parents or same sex parents decide to raise their child or children with or without the benefit of marriage, and in highly unorthodox ways. In many instances, traditional parenting seems to have taken a back seat to the emerging culture of liberal parenting in the new millennium.

Gintong Pamana's Outstanding Parents of the Year, Drs. Joe and Stella Evangelista, most likely didn't have to deal with any such unconventional concepts of raising their children. No kidding, they already broke the family size convention by having twice or thrice the number of children other couples were willing to raise. But whatever doubts other people had then will have been gone years ago, when the Evangelistas, dad, mom and kids all did exceedingly well in life, career and other pursuits.

Today, Drs. Joe and Stella Evangelista proved to all that chasing their dream of a successful career, financial freedom and community service didn't have to happen at the expense of a larger family. Their children, all six of them, turned out to be the adults they have dreamed of becoming. Cristy, the eldest, is a real estate developer and certified property manager. Edmund graduated from Tufts University Medicine, Physical Medicine Rehabilitation, and specializes in Spine and Pain Management. Marcus, JD, MBA, CPA graduated from the University of Michigan and Boston College of Law. Jose III graduated from Tufts University Medicine, Internal Medicine at Yale, Pulmonary, Critical Care fellowship at the University of California San Diego and Hyperbaric fellowship at UC San Diego. Maristella, MD/MBA from Tufts University Medicine is a Fellow in Plastic Surgery at University of California Irvine. Finally, Augustus Peter, the youngest of the siblings, is currently a Fellow in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota. Peter, who was president of his class 2011 in Tufts for 4 years, also delivered the Student Address at the Commencement Exercise.

Indeed, the saying "the apple doesn't fall far from the tree" can't be any more relevant than it is in Drs. Joe and Stella Evangelista's life.

As a team, they have been and always will be a formidable tandem. Individually, however, they have demonstrated their strengths just as well. Both Joe and Stella excelled academically. Joe graduated Valedictorian in elementary and high school and Summa Cum Laude in B.S. Pre-Medicine and Zoology. Stella graduated Salutatorian from elementary, high school and Pre-med and Doctor of Medicine Benemeritus.

Dr. Joe is Board Certified in Internal Medicine, Cardiology, Cardiovascular Diseases and in Sleep Medicine. Dr. Stella is Board Certified in Pediatrics. Dr. Joe has been appointed to the following medical positions: Chief of Staff of St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia, Michigan, President of Livonia

Precious grandkids: Cameron, Corbin, Kelly

Diagnostic Center, Fellow in American College of Cardiology, American College of Chest Physicians, Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons and American College of Sleep Medicine.

Dr. Stella on the other hand, was appointed Chief of Pediatrics at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia, Michigan. She was also appointed member of the Michigan State Board of Medicine for 8 years by Governor James Blanchard of Michigan and became the first Filipino to hold that position. She was also a member of the Michigan State Board of Pharmacy and more recently, the Medical Director and Administrator of Maple Manor Rehab Center.

Both are well known in their community and are highly respected by their peers, electing them to positions of importance and responsibility. Dr. Joe Evangelista, who currently serves as Philippine Honorary Consul General in Detroit, Michigan, had been elected president of the Association of Philippine Physicians in America, USTMAA Michigan and USTMAA Midwest. He also served as the founding president of Michigan Circulo Pampangueno. Joe was appointed by President Bill Clinton as member of the National Committee on Foreign Medical Education and Accreditation and became a delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

Dt. Stella Evangelista has been the Executive Director of USTMAA Foundation since 1987 and was its president in 1998-1999. She was the first woman to be elected president of the Association of Philippine Physicians in America (APPA). She became a member of the Congressional Asian American Pacific Caucus and like her husband, was one of the privileged delegates to the Democratic National Convention. She serves as President of JS Evangelista Development Company where husband Joe sits as CEO.

These trailblazing couple have not been short on awards and recognition either. Having been in the spotlight in many important community events, they reaped awards from various organizations with Gintong Pamana being one of them. Dr. Joe was honored with the Kamanyang Award in Medicine and Dr. Stella, with the Prism Award for Women of Style and Achievements. Together, husband and wife had been inducted to the International Heritage Hall of Fame in Metro Detroit, the first Filipino and first couple to be given such honor in its 84 year history.

Both couple have also, each, received the THOMAS Award for Leadership and Most Outstanding Alumnus of the Year awards from USTMAAA, Physician of the Year Award from APPA, Philippine President's awards: Banaag Award for Outstanding Filipinos Overseas to Dr. Joe from Pres. Fidel V. Ramos and Linkapil Award to Dr. Stella, from Pres. Gloria Arroyo. Recognizing the breath of service and contributions the couple has made to their country and alma mater, the University of Santo Tomas honored them with the TOTAL Award, The Outstanding Thomasian Alumni Award for Medicine and Health. In addition, Dr. Joe Evangelista was named "One of the 400 Outstanding Alumni of the University of Santo Tomas," whereas, Dr. Stella Evangelista received the Quadricentennial Award for Exemplary Service to the University given by Rev. Fr. Rolando dela Rosa.

Dr. Stella received the World Medical Relief's "Above Self Award" and the Kiwanis International Service Award for Kiwanis Iodine program, whereas, Dr. Joe was honored with a National President's award and Flag Award for Outstanding Leadership by the Michigan State Medical Society. He also received the Most Outstanding Pampagueno Award for Medicine and for Humanitarian Services.

The ongoing journey Drs. Joe and Stella Evangelista have embarked together in pursuit of their dreams for themselves and their children is a testimonial to the power of true love and unwavering commitment. It's true love for each other, who have been classmates for 44 wonderful years, for their 6 children and 3 grandchildren and for their community. Above all, the thread that holds them together is their faith and love of God. Finally, it's their unwavering commitment to the pursuit of excellence in everything they do that brought them to where they are.

What better way to cap this profile than a quote from French philosopher, Voltaire.

How pleasant it is for a father to sit at his child's board. It is like an aged man reclining under the shadow of an oak which he has planted.

Drs. Joe and Stella Evangelista maybe a long way yet to complete retirement, but when it comes, they know without a hint of doubt that like a strong oak tree, their children will provide the shade under which these travelers can comfortably recline.
